Summary

The back test used the proprietary VE Standard and VE Forecast model strategies. For the VE Forecast portfolios, stocks predicted to provide the highest returns made up the long picks while those predicted to return the least populated the short list. In the case of the VE Standard model, the back test used the proprietary VE Standard Ranking system. The VE Standard Ranking is an assessment of a stock's attractiveness. It combines the following three factors: stock valuation, price momentum, and earnings/price ratio. Each of these quantitative measurements are ranked on a scale of 1 to 100. The higher the ranking, the more positive the influence each measurement has on the overall attractiveness of the stock. The sum of the three rankings forms the VE Standard Ranking. If two or more stocks have the same VE Standard Ranking, the VE Valuation Ranking is used as a tiebreaker. Portfolio rebalancing occurred once per month. An equal amount of capital was allocated to all stocks. Only stocks with a market price greater than $5.00 and a size ranking greater than 40--@ $434 millions in December 2009, were considered.
